Part I: Title of Part I

Describe part I of the book briefly here.

Chapter 1. Chapter Title

1.1. Sub Section 1

This is just a statement. This is just a statement, let's pretend that this part is cited from [PragProg1999]. This is just a statement. Of course, never let the Rust book left behind [RustBook2023].

1.2. Sub Section 2

This is just a statement. This is just a statement. This is just a statement. This is

Chapter 2. Another Chapter

2.1. Sub Seciton 1

[illegible]

In this chapter, I will give you an example of how to format source code using AsciiDoctor.

2.2. See the Source Code Here

src/01-02/hello-plain/hello.rs
```

```
1 fn main() {                                ①
2
3     println!("Hello World!");              ②
4
5 }
```

① Explanation - callout number 1.

② Explanation - callout number 2.

For any other source which doesn't relate to source code in programming language, use this:

rustup

```
$ curl --proto 'https' --tlsv1.2 -sSf https://sh.rustup.rs | sh

```
